Gift of a lifetime

Protect your family and their lifelong goals

Give the gift of a lifetime

Your family means the world to you. You want your grandchildren to be financially protected so they have the opportunity to enjoy life, live comfortably and worry less.

You also want to make sure nothing stands in the way of their dreams. So they can have access to funds to help pay for college, start a business venture, see the world – even fund an emergency (in case life doesn't go as planned).

You can help make all of this possible – by giving the gift of a lifetime.

Make your gift last a lifetime

Many grandparents take advantage of the annual gift tax exclusion to provide financial resources to their family. This enables them to give annual tax-free gifts, up to the maximum allowed by tax laws, to give their grandchildren a head start on life.

Instead of providing direct financial gifts to your grandchildren, you could take another approach – one that could make your gifts last a lifetime.

By funding a cash value life insurance policy, you can provide them with lifelong financial protection, while helping fund the important goals close to their heart. Imagine helping your grandchildren purchase a home, for example, and know they also have life insurance protection in place.

Provide lifelong financial protection

Cash value life insurance provides a tax-free death benefit. It gives your grandchildren coverage while they're young – as well as the potential to meet insurance needs later on.

By putting insurance coverage in force today, your grandchildren can have the funded life insurance they need later to protect them, their family or their business. Here are some potential future advantages they can enjoy, no matter their health or financial situation down the road:¹

- An early start on tax-deferred cash value accumulation
- Policy riders that can expand coverage, cover other family members, provide disability coverage and protect against inflation²
- Potential death benefit increases without underwriting^{2, 3}
- Flexibility in making premium payments³

1. Only those provisions of a life insurance contract that are listed as a guaranteed amount are guaranteed.

2. Additional costs and restrictions may apply. Agreements may not be available in all states or may exist under a different name in various states.

3. Depending upon actual policy experience, the owner may need to increase premium payments to keep the policy in force.

You can give your grandchildren long-term peace of mind with the gift of a lifetime.

Covering life's expected, unexpected expenses

Cash value life insurance can help fund your grandchildren's lifestyle. Tax-advantaged withdrawals and low-cost loans can give them a lifetime of financial flexibility to support their future goals and needs, including:⁴

- College education
- Down payment on a home
- Business start-up
- Travel
- Emergencies
- Supplemental retirement income

4. The Policy Design you choose may impact the tax status of your policy. If you pay too much premium your policy could become a modified endowment contract (MEC). Distributions from a MEC may be taxable and if the taxpayer is under the age of 59 ½ may also be subject to an additional 10% penalty tax.

Please keep in mind the primary reason to purchase a life insurance product is the death benefit.

Life insurance products contain charges, such as Cost of Insurance Charge, Cash Extra Charge, and Additional Agreements Charge (which we refer to as mortality charges), and Premium Charge, Monthly Policy Charge, Policy Issue Charge, Transaction Charge, Index Segment Charge, and Surrender Charge (which we refer to as expense charges). These charges may increase over time, and these policies may contain restrictions, such as surrender periods. Policyholders could lose money in these products.

Policy loans and withdrawals may create an adverse tax result in the event of lapse or policy surrender, and will reduce both the surrender value and death benefit. Withdrawals may be subject to taxation within the first fifteen years of the contract. You should consult your tax advisor when considering taking a policy loan or withdrawal.

The policy design you choose may impact the tax status of your policy. If you pay too much premium, your policy could become a modified endowment contract (MEC). Distributions from a MEC may be taxable, and if the taxpayer is under age 59½ may also be subject to an additional 10% penalty tax.
