

Document locator

Always follow your attorney's directions on storing documents. The following are general guidelines.

Document		Suggested location	Your location
Wills	Make sure that guardians, trustees and personal representatives (executors) are informed of the role you have asked them to assume.	Store the original in a safe place, but not a safe deposit box. Your attorney and personal representative may keep a copy. In some states, the original is filed with the Clerk of the County Court.
Trust Agreements	Trustees and successor trustees should be notified.	A copy can usually be kept in your files. Keep the original of the trust documents – together with receipts for property transferred to the trust – in your safe deposit box.
Power(s) of Attorney	Provides another person the legal right to handle certain or all of your financial affairs if you are unable to do so.	Your attorney may keep the signed original. In some states, you can keep copies in a safe place at home. In addition, you may want to send an original to your Power of Attorney.
Living Wills and Medical/Health Care Power of Attorney	Varies by state. Essential in the event of disability or terminal illness to provide caregivers with your instructions on life support, “heroic measures”.	Forward these documents to your clinic or physician's office and keep a copy in a safe place at home. Your attorney may also keep a copy.
Buy-Sell Agreements	Provides a mechanism for your business to continue when you are no longer involved in the business.	A copy can be kept in your files. Keep the original in your safe deposit box.
Marriage Certificate	Important in claiming benefits for surviving spouse.	Safe deposit box.
Birth Certificates	Important in proving age for Social Security and survivor's benefits, applying for passport and so on.	Safe deposit box.
Jewelry, Artwork, Other Collectibles	Most states allow a list separate from the will indicating who should receive certain tangible personal property.	The separate list, signed and dated, should be kept in the same location as the will.
